AT DALY CITY

DIANA BARRYMORE, Jon Hall and John Loder in Walter Wanger's Universal production "Eagle Squadron."

"Eagle Squadron" Comes To Daly City

The first screen story of American fighter pilots in the Royal Air Force is told in Walter Wanger's new Universal film, "Eagle Squadron", currently playing at the Daly City theatre, with Robert Stack and Diana Barrymore in the leading roles.

Other notables in the lengthy cast include such well known players as Jon Hall, Eddie Albert, Nigel Bruce, Evelyn Ankers, Leif Eriksoh, John Loder, Edgar Barrier, Isobel Elsom, Gladys Cooper, Poul Cavanagh, Richard Davies, Jill Esmond, Gene Reynolds and Alan Hale jr.

Stack portrays a young Californian who joins the Eagle Squadron and flies a Spitfire against the Nazis. Miss Barrymore, youngest member of the celebrated stage and screen family, is making her motion picture debut in "Eagle Squadron" in the role of a member of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force.

Authentic highlights in the picture include a raid by the dreaded British Commandos, scenes of modern warfare in the clouds, and a close-up view of war work by women, which includes flying transport planes, operating radio communications and firing anti-aircraft guns.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

★ Menu ideas for heartier appetites ★ About guaranteed fresh produce ★ A list of penny savers ★ Dad gets personal—advice

Now's the time to serve heartier meals

Old Jack Frost has hit the high spots and with the turn of temperature, family appetites favor piping hot substantial food. Time is ripe for thick soups, steaming stews and quantities of buttered vegetables.

Oven foods, too, are high in favor. For convenience, and the economy of using inexpensive cuts of meat, let your oven do four-way duty as in the dinner below. A moderate oven (375° F.) is just right for meat, potatoes and squash. During the last 15 minutes raise the temperature to 450° F. for the biscuits and dinner is on.

"CIDER PIE"
(Spicy and nice)

¾ cup sugar — ¼ tsp. nutmeg
3½ tbsps. cornstarch — ½ cup apple cider
½ tsp. cinnamon — 2 cups apple cider

Combine sugar, cornstarch and spices. Bring cider to boil, add sugar-cornstarch mixture. Cook until clear and thick, about 5 minutes. Pour into pastry shell. Chill. Serve with whipped cream. Serves 6 to 8.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

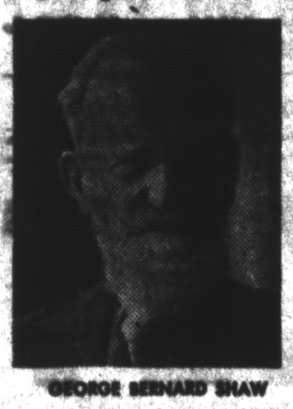
IF YOU do not say a thing in an irritating way, you may just as well not say it at all, since nobody will trouble themselves about anything that does not trouble them."

That's what George Bernard Shaw said back in 1885, when he first began writing literary and musical criticism for a London journal. Ever since that time, Shaw has been prodding dullness, stupidity and complacency, and today, at the age of 86, he's still saying uncomfortable things that make us think.



GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Not even a pedestrian biography of Shaw could be dull and Hesketh Pearson's "G.B.S. — A Full Length Portrait" is one of the most entertaining biographies of recent times. Pearson had been close friends with Shaw for some thirty years when he suggested writing his life. Shaw said, "My advice is—don't," but Pearson persisted anyway.

George Carr Shaw, father of the famous dramatist, early inspired his son with a sense of the ridiculous concerning events most mortals take seriously, Biographer Pearson tells us. When Shaw Senior was ruined in his Dublin business, "he found the magnitude of the catastrophe so irresistibly amusing" that he laughed "until he was exhausted."

Although Shaw is one of the most learned of men, he always hated school life, which he compares unfavorably to being in prison. "In prison they may torture your body; but they do not torture your brains; and they protect you against violence and outrage from your fellow-prisoners. In a school you have none of these advantages."

When Shaw came to America a few years ago, he spoke to a large New York audience. There was some hostility, at first, for he was known to have ridiculed Americans on many occasions. But when he rose to his feet, such antagonism was quickly dissipated by the charm of his voice and the brilliance of his discourse. Later he told Pearson about his experience. "I ruthlessly attacked the financial magnates and the whole financial system," he said, "and was afterwards informed that the imposing array of gentlemen sitting on the platform behind me consisted exclusively of financial magnates."

In his long and full life, Shaw has come in contact with a large portion of the great and the famous of the last century — sometimes in friendship, sometimes otherwise. Ellen Terry and Henry George; Eleonora Duse and Josef Stalin; Rudyard Kipling and Samuel Butler—these are just a few of the many distinguished people you meet in the pages of Mr. Pearson's biography.

If you were on a sinking ship and had to make for a lifeboat, what book would you take along with you? You believe you wouldn't even think of books? Well, we just heard of one man who did. When the U.S.S. Lexington was sinking, and the order to abandon ship was given, Signalman Jimmy Peters ran back to his locker and grabbed Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' recent Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Cross Creek." "I hadn't finished it and it's a swell book," Peters explained later. He was picked up from his lifeboat by a destroyer, and for the next two weeks "Cross Creek" made the rounds of the destroyer's crew. From "Cross Creek" to "Cross Coral Sea" is some swim, according to Signalman Peters.

Unexploded Bomb NO. 1

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tonight, tomorrow or any time in the near future this city and your home may be bombed. When enemy planes come over, you may expect to hear the crash of high explosive bombs and see fires started by incendiaries.

But do you know that after the enemy planes have been shot down or have flown away, the raid may go on, and on, for hours or even days? The bomb dropped today or tonight may not explode until next week. These are unexploded bombs, the U X B's, perhaps the most devastating and dangerous of all weapons of warfare.

We present here the first of a series of articles, authorized by the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense for the Ninth Civilian Defense Region, to acquaint you with the UXB and your responsibility in helping to protect yourself, your family and your city.

Most of the bombs which whistle down on this city when enemy planes fly overhead will explode with the accompanying destruction for which they were designed.

But some of them will crash through buildings, paved streets and factories or bury themselves deep in the earth. These are known as unexploded bombs, or UXB's, to the military and civilian defense officials who have to deal with them.

UXB's are divided into two types, time bombs which are set to explode hours or days after plowing their way into the ground, or bombs in which the detonating device has at least momentarily failed to work.

Sometimes these unexploded bombs are cleverly placed by the enemy where they are calculated to do the most damage possible. One may be dropped in a railroad switch yard or in the midst of a factory which is working around the clock on war production.

It would be bad enough if the bomb actually exploded on impact. It's worse when it doesn't, because activity in the immediate area of the UXB must cease until the bomb has been rendered harmless and removed. Other UXB's may land in residential districts, which likewise must be evacuated until the bomb is removed. This disruption of civil life and of national production facilities makes the UXB the most dangerous and devastating of war weapons.

No one knows or can tell when the unexploded bomb will go off. And until it has either exploded or been removed the air raid is, in effect, still on. Unexploded bombs planted throughout the city are just as dangerous to you and your family, to our production for war, as if squadrons of enemy planes still flew overhead.

The Western Defense Command and Fourth Army, the Ninth Regional U. S. Office of Civilian Defense and your Civilian Defense Council have developed a simple reporting and operating system on the West Coast to defend you against these death dealing instruments of war.

In this system you, too, have a function, and a very vital one. In subsequent articles on the UXB we will tell you about this system of rendering inactive the enemy's most dangerous weapon and where your responsibility lies in this method of defense.

Jaysee Honors 450 Men In War

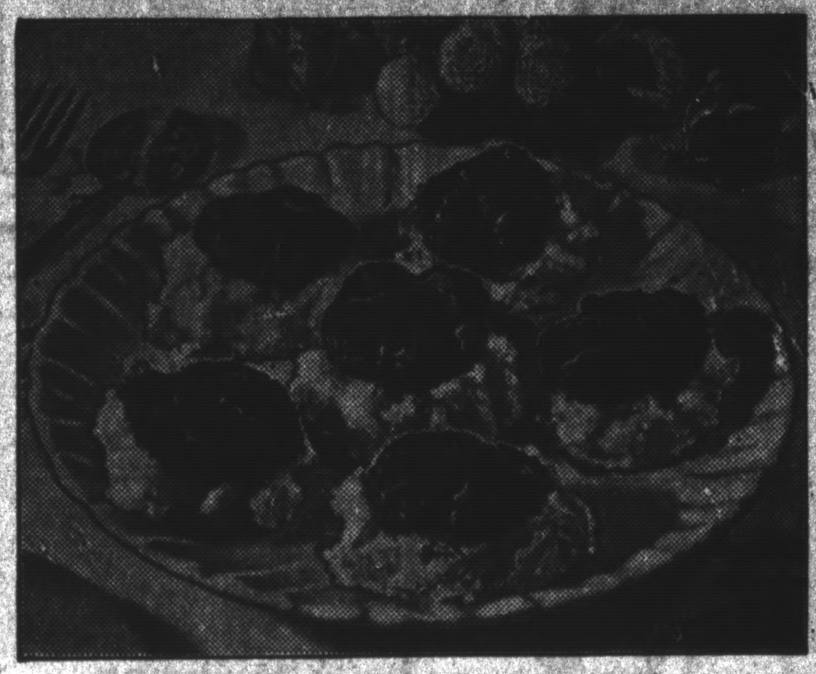
San Mateo junior college honored its 450 men in the war with an Armistice assembly, Tuesday. The college was closed, yesterday, for the Armistice Day holiday.

Richard McAllister, of the college board of trustees, has resigned, following his appointment to the San Mateo city council, and his position as trustee has been taken over by U. S. Simonds jr., Burlingame labor official. Simonds was appointed by Miss Pansy Abbott, county superintendent of schools.

MEATS—Fast Cookers and Slow Cookers

Both belong in wartime meals

Dorothy Greig



Hamburgers with Savory Sauce, on snowy mounds of whipped potatoes, are fast cookers to serve on a war-working day.

"NOW wouldn't you know," fretted a friend recently, "that just when I should spend more effort on meal getting, with all this war work I actually have less time for it."

That's the pickle most of us are in these days. We must do a better than ever job of feeding our families—but in less time.

Short cuts — we need to know them all. We should remember how quickly we can serve nourishing soup, by simply opening a can. We should know how to make use of packaged flour mixes, know how to cook a substantial meat dish in double quick time.

For meat on busy days, we select a fast cooker—something that can be oven broiled or cooked top stove in little time.

For instance, here's a fast cooker—meat patties. But fixed this way, they're not only fast but extra flavorful because of the mock turtle soup used as moistener in the mixture, and also in the sauce:

Hamburgers with Savory Sauce

1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespoons onion, chopped
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 slices white bread
3 tablespoons condensed mock turtle soup

Cook the chopped onion in butter until soft, but not brown. Trim crusts from bread and make crumbs from the slices. Combine ground beef, cooked onion, seasonings, bread crumbs and mock turtle soup (just as it comes from the can). Mix well and shape into flat patties. Brown hamburgers on each side in a little butter or fat, then reduce heat and pour the hot "Savory Sauce" over the browned hamburgers. Simmer the hamburgers in the sauce for 4 to 5 minutes. Serve on toast or on a mound of mashed potatoes.

Savory Sauce: Add 3 tablespoons water and 3 tablespoons milk to the remainder of the can of mock turtle soup. Heat and pour this sauce over the browned hamburgers.

But not all days are rush, even in war time. On unhurried days let's trot out our long time simmered pot roasts, roast chickens, slow oven baked casseroles.

This pork chop casserole is a long timer. It demands time to cook. But what melting tenderness is ours, how rich the gravy, what appetite rousing whiffs greet us as we set it proudly on the table!

Pork Chop and Rice Casserole

4 pork chops (approximately 1½ lbs.)
4 tablespoons uncooked rice
4 slices onion
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 can (14 oz.) tomato juice
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon cinnamon—ground
½ teaspoon cloves—ground

Trim the fat off the pork chops, leaving only about ⅛ inch of fat on the edge and put the chops in a casserole. Put a tablespoon of rice on each pork chop and a slice of onion on top of the rice. Make a sauce of the remaining ingredients and heat to boiling. Pour the hot sauce over the pork chops in the casserole, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for two hours. Serves 3 to 4.

LEATHERNECKS' BIRTHDAY

This week the nation celebrates the 167th anniversary of the formation of the Marines, the oldest branch of the nation's armed forces.

During the War of Independence, the newly formed Continental Marines, as they were then called, received their baptism of fire in a landing operation on the Bahamas. Historians have termed that action probably the most successful naval operation of the Revolutionary War.

Today that judgment occasions no surprise. Since Pearl Harbor the Leathernecks have written some of the most stirring chapters of heroism to come out of this war. At Wake Island and in the Battle of the Solomons they have shown themselves worthy inheritors of the Marines who fought so gallantly under John Paul Jones, "the father of the American Navy." Though terribly outnumbered, Wake Island's valiant fighters dealt punishing blows against the Japanese while supplies and ammunition lasted. In the Solomons, unleashing their heaviest landing forces in history, it was the Marines who wrested control of Guadalcanal from the Japanese and perhaps turned the tides of warfare in the Pacific.

Teamwork has been the talisman of the Marines' success since the days of '76, the talisman that points the way to victory for all America's armed forces, that points the way to victory for all the United Nations.

The Country Could Use More Like Him

The other day he was chief of the Office of War Information's press branch in the nation's capital. Today he's a private, going through boot-camp training at Parris Island, South Carolina.

So runs the story of a California newspaperman, Paul C. Smith, on leave from his post as editor and general manager of a San Francisco paper, who voluntarily relinquished an $8000 a year job in the Office of War Information and gave up a Naval Lieutenant Commander's commission in order to learn how to use a bayonet in the Marines—one of the toughest assignments any newspaperman could ask for.

Too few and far between have been the instances of men in lucrative non-combatant war posts who, scorning all considerations of income, safety or prestige, have chosen to do their war work with rifle and bayonet in the blazing battlefronts of the war zones.

A fine-toothed comb applied to the vast group of desk war workers in Washington, D. C., might well turn up enough manpower for several battalions who, in combat, could render the country a greater service with a machine gun than a typewriter. Private Smith's action, we trust, will be a reminder to able-bodied young seat-warmers, clinging uneasily to deferred status, that "they also serve" who go forth to fight.

OUR ARMED FORCES MUST BE FED

This requires tremendous qantities of meat, which necessitates our Government curtailing the supply of certain kinds and types of meat. However this will in no way affect your having all the body building elements contained in meat that are so necessary to good health. We may not always have the exact cut or quantity that you wish; but we will have sufficient meats GENERALLY to care for our customers' needs. One cut or type of meat is just as healthful and body-building as another—so if you will cooperate, by cheerfully accepting the kinds of meat and cuts available, you will be doing your country a patriotic service and at the same time—
